

CHAPTER 3

APOCALYPSE THEN

Baalbek

In Lebanon, the country north of Israel, there's an ancient site called Baalbek. In the Bible, it's known under the name Baalath and others know it as Biblos. Used by Romans and Phoenicians who erected temples at this location to practise their idol worship, the site's name turns out to be very accurate: city of Baal. Both Romans and Phoenicians have constructed their temples on the remains of much older buildings. These older remains contain giant stones, weighing from 800 to 1200 tons. When you take a look at the photographs and compare the height of the people standing next to the stones, you can have an idea of the massive size. In our technical age, it is still an enigma as to how these massive stones were put in place because no current machine is able to do it! According to local stories, Nimrod¹ ordered his giants to build the structure, which was then later used by the Phoenicians and the Romans to erect their temples on. The Egyptians named the site after their own holy city, Heliopolis².

² Heliopolis means "city of the sun".

Once they transported a statue from their Egyptian city to this Lebanese place. This statue was well received, but not worshipped according to Egyptian religions. The people at Baalbek worshipped the idol according to Assyrian traditions³. Apart from the fact that this shows the Babylonian and the Egyptian religions were essentially the same, evidently the site had an attraction to different cultures. The question to ask is this: why did Nimrod and others after him want to perform their rituals at this specific site? Just look at the picture. This giant stone weighs an estimated 1200 tons! That is the first hint. Another one rests within the fact that originally Baalbek is said to have been built in times when Adam and Eve were still on the face of the earth. And they lived well before the Great Flood of Noah! In the Bible (Genesis 4) you can read about Cain and Abel. Cain killed Abel, and after that he built a city that he named after his son, Enoch. This Enoch is not the same one as the prophet⁴, by the way, but that aside. Local tradition at Baalbek claims that this is the city Enoch. Whether this is the true location or not, doesn't really matter. Most sources agree that originally Baalbek is pre-flood. And it's a fact that the post-flood civilizations were very interested in performing their rituals on a place where they believe the first city was built. By a murderer called Cain... This interest in the pre-flood era shouldn't come as a surprise to anyone who studies the mystery of iniquity. Yesus Kristos prophesied the end of times (the last days of babylon) will be similar to these earliest ages of mankind. For these times were really dreadful, as you will see in this chapter.

But as the days of Noe [were], so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. (Matthew 24:37-39, KJV)

Traditional teaching concerning the pre-flood era

A veil of mystery and erroneous teaching surrounds the days of Noah, and the subsequent Great Flood that covered the face of the planet. Traditionally, the story goes that after Adam and Ever were “put into exile”⁵, out of Eden, the people committed so many sins that God regretted making mankind and decided to destroy it. This story is quite wrong. But it serves the purpose of the workers of iniquity⁶ well. First, the story shows a God Who creates mankind and then changes his mind, in other words a fallible God. This reasoning is crucial in the meditations of those who believe that the creators (rather than Creator) of mankind were ET’s and that we are some kind of “experiment”⁷ too. It also portrays an image of an impulsive God, with quick changing moods, a bit like a brutal dictator whose lack of self-control is dramatically maintained by enormous power and might. But as we shall see, this babylonian caricature of “the Christian God” is nothing more than that, a caricature. A dangerous one nevertheless: many people who are raised Christian were unable to see through these erroneous teachings and they accepted this caricature as the genuine Portrait of the Creator. It goes even further than that, when the real reason for the Great Flood is discovered and how “church fathers” tried to hide this. Traditional teaching doesn’t only present a totally erroneous picture of the Creator, it also hides crucial information concerning the pre-flood situation on the face of the planet. And because Jesus prophesied that the end of days will be like the “days on Noah”, it is quite necessary to get a good picture about this particular period.

⁵ Due to their initiation into the mystery of iniquity, Adam and Eve were no longer able to function in the Garden of Eden. So it was not as much an exile when God placed them outside. It was a consequence of their will to get acquainted with evil.

⁶ The “workers of iniquity” in the context of this book are those actively working on the “mystery of iniquity”, that is the plan to get satan on the throne in the temple in Jerusalem.

⁷ An experiment is by its very nature a method utilized to achieve certain knowledge or other gains. An Almighty Creator does not need an experiment, as He just knows everything there is to know. Regret is also a thing you will not find with an infallible God, simply because He doesn’t make mistakes.

Days of Noah

What exactly were the events that eventually led to the Great Flood? What happened during the “days of Noah”? As Jesus’ prophecy reveals, there will be a time in which those days will return. Eschatologists⁸ call this future period the “Great Tribulation”. This is the time in which the mystery of iniquity will reach to its climax when the anti-christ will put himself on a throne in the temple of God. It’s a period of which Jesus Kristus said, that when it would not be “shortened”, no flesh would live⁹. Exactly that was the case in the time between Adam and Noah. In those days, the mere existence of the human race was threatened.

The nephilim

Genesis 6 is the key chapter concerning the pre-flood era. It reveals, that angelic beings called benai elohim or “sons of God” had sex with women. This combination brought forth a terrible offspring known as the nephilim, translated as “giants”. The word means “the fallen ones”, some also say, “aborted”. Zechariah Sitchin likes to define the nephilim as “those who

⁸ Meaning, those that study the prophecies concerning the end of times.

⁹ “And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect’s sake those days shall be shortened.” (Matthew 24:22, KJV) from heaven to earth came”, which serves his idea that the Benai Elohim were ET’s. But Michael S. Heisser, an expert on the ancient Hebrew language, says that this definition is absurd.¹⁰ The whole earth eventually was filled with these nephilim, and only Noah and his sons remained as 100% human. God decided to put a flood on the earth in order to destroy the bodies of the nephilim because if He would not have done that, the human race would no longer exist and the promised Saviour¹¹ could not have come forth.

There were giants [nephilim] in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God [benai Elohim] came in unto the daughters of men [Adam], and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men [gibborim] which were of old, men of renown.
(Genesis 6:4, KJV)

Mighty men

Now let’s see what we can learn from this Bible scripture. As you remember, the “sons of God” were rejoicing when the earth was created¹². Some think that they are human, but obviously they are not¹³. Still, the Bible teaches that these angelic beings had sex with women and offspring came forth as a result of it. An offspring of which you can read, that they were the mighty men or gibborim, men of renown. Many stories have been told about them. They were of great stature, both literally and symbolically speaking. This means that they were like the “ruling class” and their rule was imposed by force and violence. Today people are impressed when they visit sites such as Baalbek or the Nazca Lines, but unfortunately only a few realize the bloody and evil practices of the builders.

¹⁰ <http://www.facadenovel.com/sitchinerrors.htm>

¹¹ The seed of the woman, see previous chapter.

¹² Job 38:4-7

¹³ “Son of God” means: created by God, in opposition to sons of Adam, who come from the mother’s womb. In New Testament terms, the same definition can be applied.

Sex with an angel

Think about it for a while, because there's something really bizarre going on. Angels having sex with women? Isn't that a bit a strange thought? Indeed it is. Nevertheless, when you research the matter, it's not as unlikely as it seems at first. It was mentioned as a common event by not one, but all major civilizations from ancient times. Several most bizarre occult and satanic rituals involve sex with demons. The major reason for the abductions that accompany the UFO phenomena seem to be some kind of "breeding programme" in which the "aliens" try to find ways to get themselves a body out of union between them and humans. Sex between angelic beings and humans is happening, and offspring can come out of it as a result. And in the pre-flood era it was such a common event, that eventually the whole earth was covered with these nephilim and only Noah was left as human:

Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations
(Genesis 6:9, KJV)

Gustave Doré

The real story

We can't possibly imagine how it must have looked like, in those days preceding the Great Flood. But it's surely different than the traditional picture. Eventually, the whole earth was covered with the "seed of the serpent". Only of Noah it is said, that he was "perfect in his generations". This perfection does not imply that Noah was without sin, although he did look for Jah because he was considered a just man. His "generational perfection" describes his genetic situation. He was a son of Adam, and did not have any genes of the nephilim in him. Let's meditate on the implications of this fact for a short while. How contrary is the message of the Bible to the picture that babylonian Christianity paints! Just think about the many mis-translations, which are all seemingly aimed at hiding the loving Character of God and the true nature of earth's history. Look again to Gustave Dore's work of art. Although you can see monsters between the people¹⁴, you can also see "innocent little children" as they are threatened by waves of water. A scare full image, serving the babylonian propaganda machine to the max! Little children are taught about an angry God Who regretted to have created man, because man was doing naughty things and only Noah was without sin¹⁵. The truth is quite different... God was grieved, hurt in His Heart, about what was going on. The nephilim became a threat to man's existence, and when there would be no man left, how could the Saviour have come from the seed of the woman (Eve)? They were much larger than man, who was totally depending on these "mighty men" for his knowledge and technical possibilities, as we shall see in this chapter. But eventually they became the "dominant species" and contaminated the "seed of Adam" to such an extend that the Flood became a necessary tool to save mankind. Only Noah and his three sons remained as "fully human". So there was a necessity to make the earth unfit to host that much giants or nephilim, and the flood was part of the measures taken to accomplish just that¹⁶. Noah was saved, because the whole operation was set up to save mankind, not to devour it. The Great Flood was not to “punish mankind”, but to save it.

¹⁴ Which could be a hint that Gustave Dore was well aware of the existence of the nephilim but unwilling to portray them as being the major reason for the flood. Only Noah and his three sons were genetically humans, so the beings that remained to "experience" the flood would than have to be the nephilim.

¹⁵ According to the book of Genesis, after the flood Noah planted a vineyard and there is a story recorded describing Noah as he drinks from the wine he created, becoming so drunk that he didn't know anymore what he was doing. Not really a thing to do for someone of whom it is said that he was without sin.

¹⁶ Atmospheric conditions on planet earth before the Great Flood differs from "our" atmosphere considerably. Before the flood it had never rained, but a mist watered the plants in the morning. There were no seasons as we know them.

Enter Enoch

Where Genesis 6 doesn't really say much about the nephilim and the “sons of God”, the most ancient Book of Enoch elaborates on this event until a great extend. This book is quoted and labelled as prophecy in the New Testament¹⁷. The phrase “Son of man” to describe Yesus Kristus comes out of the same book. Early Christians as well as Jews saw the book as authentic and Divinely inspired. In 1773, it was “discovered” in Ethiopia by a Scotsman named James Bruce. In this country, with it's very close relationship with the God of Ages, a complete version of the book had been preserved for centuries! The words of Daniel began to fulfil, partly because of this event. As we remember, this prophet foretold that in the “end of times” knowledge would increase considerably because of travelling et cetera. It's not a

Unlike today, gigantic creatures were able to dwell on the face of the planet. Because of all of this, some scientists think that the earth's poles were located at different places.

¹⁷ And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints (Jude 1:14, KJV) coincidence, that the book of Enoch was introduced to the western world in the same time the satanic secret society of the Illuminati was founded by Adam Weishaupt. This event took place in 1776, the same year in which according to the American one-dollar bill the “New World Order” was announced. But let’s stick to the book of Enoch for now. Three years before the workers of iniquity announced their “Novos Ordos Seclorum”¹⁸, James Bruce introduced the book of Enoch to the western world. Fragments of the book have been found on various locations ever since. For example the Dead Sea Scrolls, a collection of Jewish books found in a cave near Qumran (picture), contained the Book of Enoch¹⁹. Some cherish the assumption that the Book of Enoch is written in the 2nd century AD and was therefore an early Christian writing. But the fact portions of it were found at Qumran blasts that away²⁰.

Enoch silenced

Before we’ll study large portions from this remarkable text, we should consider that there were powers that wanted to suppress the knowledge contained in it. Enoch reveals the true nature of the “sons of God”, which happens to be crucial information in order to overstand the mystery of iniquity which will have it’s climax in the “end times”. And some circles wanted to prevent people from having access to this information. A close study of the actual text of Enoch in comparance to the original Scriptures draws researchers to the remarkable conclusion that the Bible heavily rests upon this book. Quotations, titles, principals, knowledge, all these “Enochian” things can be found back in the Bible. One of the translators of the book, RH Charles, claimed “the influence of Enoch on the New Testament has been greater than that of all the apocryphal and pseudigraphal books taken together"²¹. Early "church fathers" acknowledged this too. There was no doubt; Genesis 6 was speaking about fallen angels and daughters of men. It was common knowledge among the people. All of this started to change between 200 and 245 AD. During this time, Julius Africanus lived and he started to speak out against this idea. He rebuked Enoch and claimed that it was absurd to believe fallen angels could mingle with themselves with women. Where the whole ancient world, who lived through that period, believed the events took place, where occultic rituals contain the actual practise of sex with a spirit-type being until this day, Christians were gradually being conditioned to forget all this and believe some absurd story on how two different types of people, sons of Seth and daughters of Cain, had sex with each other and created giants as a result. Chrysostom, another "Church Father", lived from 346 to 407 AD. He claimed that it was even blasphemy to believe it. And later on, an "anathema"²² was placed on everyone who still thought that the sons of God were angelic beings. There was also fierce discussion whether to put the Apocalypse in the canon, because of the "Enochian Contents" of it. In the 3rd century "church fathers" like Dionysius didn't want to acknowledge the Apocalypse as genuine scripture. It came close! Copies of the Book of Enoch were destroyed or hidden away, and so the true nature of the reason for Noah's Flood was carefully protected from the public's eye. People were forced into believing an idea about this angry God with changing moods, because this believe made the people more fit to be controlled by the babylonian elite that called themselves the heads of church and state. It's kind of funny, by the way. The first known person to speak out against Enoch was called Julius Africanus. But Jah has preserved the book of Enoch in its totality in.... Ethiopia, Africa!

²² An "anathema" is a curse given by the Catholic Church to people who are considered heretic.

Enoch speaks

Now, let's take a look inside the book of Enoch, so you can check it out for yourself. It's even better to buy or get the complete book for yourself! The book is available in every good bookshop, but it can also be downloaded for free from the Internet²³. The book elaborates on the events described in Genesis 6. In it, we can read the story of fallen angels called watchers who decided to create offspring with human women in exchange for knowledge and technology. The ancient prophet even gives the names of their leaders to us. One of them was Azazel, who in the Old Testament is connected to the scapegoat and the "desert spirits"²⁴. Enoch tells us, that the watchers descended on a mountain called Hermon or Ardis. This mountain is said to be in what is now known as the country of Jordan, which means "ascension". These watchers and their offspring ruled brutally, demanding all kinds of things from the humans. At a certain moment, the Most High tells Enoch to bring a message of judgement to these watchers. They ask Enoch to petition on their behalf, but the Lord becomes even more angry after this. Azazel and his colleagues are bound and placed in the abyss until the great day of judgement. The nephilim are drowned during the Great Flood. Because of this, they were separated from their bodies. Enoch also tells us, that the "dead nephilim" are the spirits we today know as "demons". They roam the earth, trying to find bodies to possess, serving satan and his agenda from the "lower fourth dimension" as some say.

"In those days, when the children of man had multiplied, it happened that there were born unto them handsome and beautiful daughters. And the angels, the children of heaven, saw them and desired them; and they said to one another, 'Come, let us choose wives for ourselves from among the daughters of man and beget us children.' And Semyaz, being their leader, said unto them, 'I fear that perhaps you will not consent that this deed should be done, and I alone will become (responsible) for this great sin.' But they all responded to him, 'Let us all swear an oath and bind everyone among us by a curse not to abandon this suggestion but to do the deed.' Then they all swore together and bound one another by (the curse) and they were altogether two hundred;" (1 Enoch 6:1-7)

When angels sin...

Quite a thing! Evidently, the watchers knew exactly what they were doing. They knew it was a great sin. Ofcourse they did, for they were watchers. Watchers are angels who live in another dimension, and they see Jah all the time. They have been given certain commandments and a function. Their title "watchers" would indicate that they are some kind of observers. When you read in the book of Enoch, you will see Richard Hoagland's idea that higher dimensions kind of rule our dimension, keeping the planets where they are et cetera is being confirmed by this most ancient account²⁵. And so they knew that what they were doing was wrong. But they were so evil that in spite of this, they bound themselves to an oath. Just like satan, their master. For some reason they knew that they would be severely punished for their deed, but still they did it. Now, let's take a look what Enoch writes about their deeds:

"They took wives unto themselves, and everyone (respectively) chose one woman for himself, and they began to go unto them. And they taught them magical medicine, incantations, the cutting of roots, and taught them (about) plants. And the women became pregnant and gave birth to great giants whose heights were three hundred cubits. These (giants) consumed the produce of all the people until the people detested feeding them. So the giants turned against (the people) in order to eat them." (1 Enoch 7:1-5)

Similarities with UFOlogy

Here we see how the watchers and the nephilim functioned as some kind of teachers for mankind. Just like satan tempted Eve with the existence of "hidden knowledge", the watchers tempted mankind with the same thing. Everything strictly to serve the agenda of satan, ofcourse. Ofcourse! Now, current stories concerning the UFO abductions seem to point out to the fact that watchers disguised as "aliens" want to create offspring with humans again. Aliens abduct people and take away sperm or eggs. Sometimes they make a woman pregnant, but the embryo leaves the womb after a few months, while the woman is again abducted. Sometimes, women get to see "their children", or are made to hold them. Researchers in this field claim, that they see a pattern in the stories. And not only the pattern that people from all over the world seem to experience the same thing, without knowing it from the others. No, they think that the "aliens" are involved in some kind of project. They experiment, for they cannot get the right body. But they seem to have made tremendous progress and some researchers claim, that they are almost "ready". In UFOlogy there is also widespread rumour, that the governments of the world are involved in this all as well. It is said, that the "aliens" are granted permission to abduct people, in exchange for.... Knowledge! Knowledge on how to build "good" fighter planes, about genetic manipulation, et cetera. Jesus' prophesy that the end will be like the "days of Noah shows to be less enigmatic as it seems....

The “scribe of righteousness”

Now, please read the following –rather long- story. You will see that there are good and bad watchers. Some of them committed the sin, but others didn't. In spite of what the bad watchers said to themselves before they committed the sin, the announcement of God's judgement was quite a blow in their face. They trembled with fear by just thinking about His power. And they asked Enoch to petition on their behalf to the Most High.

“Before these things Enoch was hidden, and no one of the children of men knew where he was hidden, and where he abode, and what had become of him. And his activities had to do with the Watchers, and his days were with the holy ones. And I Enoch was blessing the Lord of majesty and the King of the ages, and lo! The Watchers called me -Enoch the scribe- and said to me: 'Enoch, thou scribe of righteousness, go, declare to the Watchers of the heaven who have left the high heaven, the holy eternal place, and have defiled themselves with women, and have done as the children of earth do, and have taken unto themselves wives: "Ye have wrought great destruction on the earth: And ye shall have no peace nor forgiveness of sin: and inasmuch as they delight themselves in their children, The murder of their beloved ones shall they see, and over the destruction of their children shall they lament, and shall make supplication unto eternity, but mercy and peace shall ye not attain.'"

And Enoch went and said: 'Azazel, thou shalt have no peace: a severe sentence has gone forth against thee to put thee in bonds: And thou shalt not have toleration nor request granted to thee, because of the unrighteousness which thou hast taught, and because of all the works of godlessness and unrighteousness and sin which thou hast shown to men.' Then I went and spoke to them all together, and they were all afraid, and fear and trembling seized them. And they besought me to draw up a petition for them that they might find forgiveness, and to read their petition in the presence of the Lord of heaven. For from thenceforward they could not speak (with Him) nor lift up their eyes to heaven for shame of their sins for which they had been condemned. Then I wrote out their petition, and the prayer in regard to their spirits and their deeds individually and in regard to their requests that they should have forgiveness and length. And I went off and sat down at the waters of Dan, in the land of Dan, to the south of the west of Hermon: I read their petition till I fell asleep. And behold a dream came to me, and visions fell down upon me, and I saw visions of chastisement, and a voice came bidding (me) I to tell it to the sons of heaven, and reprimand them. And when I awaked, I came unto them, and they were all sitting gathered together, weeping in 'Abelsjail, which is between Lebanon and Seneser, with their faces covered. And I recounted before them all the visions which I had seen in sleep, and I began to speak the words of righteousness, and to reprimand the heavenly Watchers.

The book of the words of righteousness, and of the reprimand of the eternal Watchers in accordance with the command of the Holy Great One in that vision. I saw in my sleep what I will now say with a tongue of flesh and with the breath of my mouth: which the Great One has given to men to converse therewith and understand with the heart. As He has created and given to man the power of understanding the word of wisdom, so hath He created me also and given me the power of reprimanding the Watchers, the children of heaven. I wrote out your petition, and in my vision it appeared thus, that your petition will not be granted unto you throughout all the days of eternity, and that judgement has been finally passed upon you: yea (your petition) will not be granted unto you. And from henceforth you shall not ascend into heaven unto all eternity, and in bonds of the earth the decree has gone forth to bind you for all the days of the world. And (that) previously you shall have seen the destruction of your beloved sons and ye shall have no pleasure in them, but they shall fall before you by the sword. And your petition on their behalf shall not be granted, nor yet on your own: even though you weep and pray and speak all the words contained in the writing which I have written.” (1 Enoch 12-14)

A letter to the Most High, signed: the watchers

Enoch was quite familiar with the “world of the watchers”. The story starts with the remark that he wasn’t to be found, because he was doing things that had “to do with the watchers”. From the text, it can be perceived that a big portion of this activity consisted out of prayer and praising the Most High. Another aspect was writing letters, which gave him the title “scribe of righteousness”... Good watchers came to Enoch and told him to declare to the bad watchers that they would be judged. Azazel and his posse became very much afraid. Ofcourse they were, they were watchers. They knew God better than any man! They bound themselves to an oath, before they committed this act, but now that their offspring became so violent and God had to take drastic measures in order to preserve the human race. Their game was over. Enoch seems to hint towards the idea, that the watchers were kind of proud of their offspring. Well, we can read what the nephilim did. Hardly something to be proud of, no? They were not willing to repent, instead they just became afraid. And in their “blind evilness” they told Enoch to write a letter to the Most High in which they ask for a pardon. It’s an unbelievable insult to Jah! Ofcourse He didn’t grant the pardon. By the way: Enoch went to the watchers, who were close to the country of Lebanon. Could they have been at Baalbek?

Evil spirits on earth

Enoch told the watchers they would be bound in the abyss. In the last book of the Bible, the Apocalypse, we see how a demon called Abbaddon or Appolyon will be given a key to unleash the fallen watchers²⁶. One last time will they roam the earth and make many victims. But also in this present day the earth isn't free from evil spirits. According to Enoch, the spirits of the nephilim would become the evil spirits on earth after the deluge or Great Flood. Unlike their fathers, the giants were formed and born on the face of the earth. The watchers or sons of God were created "at the beginning". Let's take a look at what the scribe of righteousness got to say about that:

"But now the giants who are born from the (union of) the spirits and the flesh shall be called evil spirits upon the earth, because their dwelling shall be upon the earth and inside the earth. Evil spirits have come out of their bodies. Because from the day that they were created from the holy ones they became the Watchers; their first origin is the spiritual foundation. They will become evil upon the earth and shall be called evil spirits. The dwelling of the spiritual beings of heaven is heaven; but the dwelling of the spirits of the earth, which are born upon the earth, is in the earth. The spirits of the giants oppress each other, they will corrupt, fall, be excited, and fall upon the earth, and cause sorrow. They eat no food, nor become thirsty, nor find obstacles. And these spirits shall rise up against the children of the people and against the women, because they have proceeded forth (from them). (1 Enoch 15)

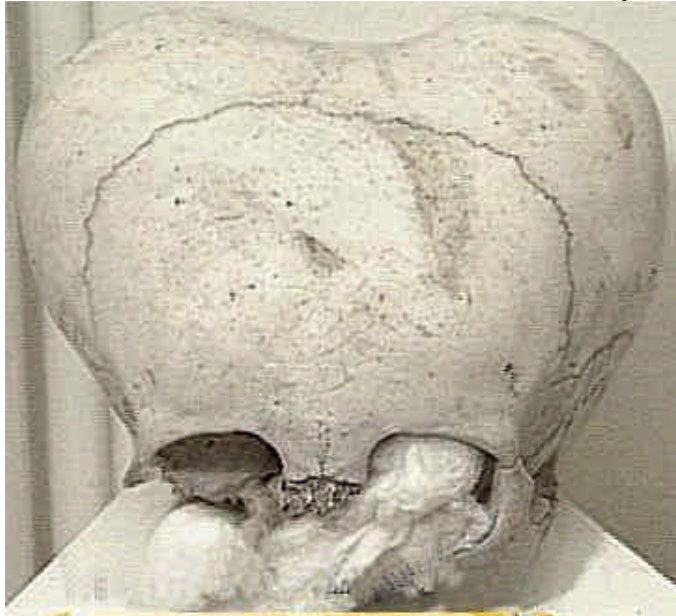

Skull and bones of the nephilim

As we could read in Genesis 6, the nephilim were on the earth before the flood, but also afterwards. And indeed, nephilim skulls and bones have been found all over the world. These bones come from different periods of time, too.

²⁶ Revelation 9:1-11

But most of the (archaeological) knowledge we have concerning the nephilim is from after the Flood. We know that the Flood didn't prevent them from existing, it did however prevent them from taking over the planet completely. And we know that many of the "scientific dating" is as reliable as the estimations of others. Much is based on assumption. Take for example the strange skulls you can find in Ica, Peru (pictures). Researcher Robert Connolly photographed them and the pictures have travelled all over cyberspace²⁷. Ofcourse there's uncertainty about the age of the skulls. Some say they are older than 10,000 years, which would then mean that the skulls are pre-Adamite. Others place them a bit later in time. Were they pre-Adamites? Pre-Flood? Post-Flood? They were nephilim, that's for sure. Studies of the skulls quickly show the similarity with so-called aliens. The photo on this page (picture left) wears a very close resemblance to what is known in UFO circles as the "pepper head" (picture right). But there are many other types of nephilim remains. Some are closer to humans than others. But almost all of them have a considerably higher brain volume. In principal, this means that not only did the nephilim exceed humans in size and strength, but also in intellect. And from the stories based on their existence, we learned that indeed they were. Certain people say that these skulls are simply deformed human heads, but then, similar skulls have been found as they belonged to little children. So children were born this way! Take for example the skull of the “Star Child”, also found in South America and dated a few centuries old. This child died when it was 5 years old, together with its mother. Its skull reminds many researchers to the so-called “grey aliens”. Writer Lloyd Pye researched the skull. On his website²⁸ he writes:

These are well-known, well-regarded legends with roots spreading throughout Central and South America. They are pervasive and long-standing (two centuries or more), and in general state that on a regular basis "Star Beings" come down from the heavens and impregnate females in remote, isolated villages. The women carry their "starchildren" to term, then raise them to age six or so. At that point the Star Beings return to collect their progeny and remove them to places, and for purposes, not clearly outlined in the legends, though improving a stagnated gene pool is often mentioned as a motivation.²⁹

A nephilim child?

Sounds familiar, yes? Watchers apparently try to find a way to re-introduce the “days of Noah” on the face of the earth. Their “stagnated gene pool” can easily be declared by the atmospheric changes caused by the Great Flood. In a video from a press-conference which can be viewed from the Star Child website³⁰, mr Pye declares that the “starchild” was buried under the female skeleton, but it’s hand was holding it’s mothers hand. The “starchild’s” mother seems to have buried the child and killed herself afterwards. Perhaps she didn't want to say goodbye to her child? Or did she know of the evil origin of the watchers? We don't know. What we do know is that given the child's age this cannot be a deformed human skull. And it's not human. Stories surrounding it have many similarities with the biblical story about the nephilim.

Horned skull

Apparently, the nephilim were not only of giant size, some of them had horns on their head (picture). There is doubt about the authenticity of the skull on this particular picture, but these types have been found. They formed the inspiration for the ancient soldiers with horns on their helmets. These kind of skulls have been reported at excavations various places on the earth. This one was found in what is now the United States of America³¹, the picture apparently taken in the 19th century.

19th century excavating

Writer Steve Quayle wrote a very insightful book with the title "Genesis 6 Giants". Everyone really interested in the nephilim should get this book. The book could be considered as the 21st century standard work on this subject. In it, he writes that during the 19th and early 20th century, both amateur and professional archaeologists have been excavating a significant amount of bones and giant remains, which are now either stolen or "disappeared". Mr Quayle gives a literal flood of examples and has put an impressive list on his website too. A small portion of American excavations³²:

³¹ http://www.subversiveelement.com/History_Unusual_Remains.html

- Large bones in stone graves in Williamson County and White County, Tennessee. Discovered in the early 1800s, the average stature of these giants was 7 feet tall. (John Haywood, The Natural and Aboriginal History of Tennessee, McCowat-Mercer, Jackson, TN, 1958)
- Giant skeletons found in the mid-1800s in New York state near Rutland and Rodman. (Cyrus Gordon, Before Columbus, Crown Publishers, NY, 1971)
- In 1833, soldiers digging at Lompock Rancho, California, discovered a male skeleton 12 feet tall. The skeleton was surrounded by caved shells, stone axes, other artifacts. The skeleton had double rows of upper and lower teeth. Unfortunately, this body was secretly buried because the local Indians became upset about the remains. (David Hatcher Childress, Lost Cities of North America, Adventures Unlimited Press, Stelle, IL, 1992, p.509.)
- A giant skull and vertebrae found in Wisconsin and Kansas City. (Cyrus Godron, Before Columbus, Crown Publishers, NY, 1971.)
- A giant found off the California Coast on Santa Rosa Island in the 1800s was distinguished by its double rows of teeth. (David Hatcher Childress, Lost Cities of North America, Adventures Unlimited Press, Stelle, IL, 1992, p.509.)
- A 9-foot, 8-inch skeleton was excavated from a mound near Brewersville, Indiana, in 1879. (Indianapolis, News News, November 10, 1975.)
- Skeletons of "enormous dimensions" were found in mounds near Zanesville, Ohio, and Warren, Minnesota, in the 1880s. (Cyrus Godron, Before Columbus, Crown Publishers, NY, 1971)

³² <http://www.stevequayle.com/Giants/N.Am/hidden.proofs.giant.race.html>

- In Clearwater Minnesota, the skeletons of seven giants were found in mounds. These had receding foreheads and complete double dentition. (David Hatcher Childress, Lost Cities of North America, Adventures Unlimited Press, Stelle, IL, 1992, p.468.)
- At LeCrescent, Wisconsin, mounds were found to contain giant bones. Five miles north near Dresbach, the bones of people over 8 feet tall were found. (ibid)
- In 1888 seven skeletons ranging from seven to 8 feet tall were discovered. (St. Paul Pioneer Press, June 29, 1888)
- Near Toledo, Ohio, 20 skeletons were discovered with jaws and teeth "twice as large as those of present day people." The account also noted that odd hieroglyphics were found with the bodies. (Chicago Record, October 24, 1895)
- Miners in Lovelock Cave, California, discovered a very tall, red-haired mummy In 1911. (Humboldt Star, May 13, 1928) This mummy eventually went to a fraternal lodge where it was used for "initiation purposes."³³ (David Hatcher Childress, Lost Cities of North America, Adventures Unlimited Press, Stelle, IL, 1992, p 494., emphasis by the writer of this book)

“There were nephilim in those days...”

Indeed: science, mythology, theology and archaeology all agree over the fact that the nephilim were a reality. But let’s not restrain ourselves to simply establish this proof. Let us place it in a perspective. The perspective of the mystery of iniquity. Because we should not forget the origin of these beings. They were on the earth for a purpose, like we are here for a purpose too. They were not simply fascinating and “men of renown”. They were terrorizing mankind and fighting amongst themselves.

³³ As the book goes on, we will see many connections between the nephilim and the workers of iniquity. This is only one, but it shows the enormous interest that they have for the nephilim. Mummies from the nephilim are incorporated in secret “initiation rituals”.

47 inch Human Femur

In the late 1950s, during road construction in south-east Turkey in the Euphrates Valley, many tombs containing the remains of Giants were uncovered.

At two sites the leg bones were measured to be about 120 cms "47.24 inches".

Joe Taylor, Director of the Mt. BLANCO FOSSIL MUSEUM in Crosbyton, Texas, was commissioned to sculpt this anatomically correct, and to scale, human femur.

This "Giant" stood some 14-16 feet tall, and had 20-22 inch long feet. His or Her finger tips, with arms to their sides, would be about 6 feet above the ground.

The Biblical record, in Deuteronomy 3:11 states that the Iron Bed of Og, King of Bashan was 9 cubits by 4 cubits or approximately 14 feet long by 6 feet wide!

GENESIS 6:4

There were Nephilim (Giants) in the earth in those days; and also after that when the sons of God (Angels?) came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown.

Weeping, wailing and rejoicing

So let's continue with Enoch and meditate over the implications. The watchers wept, realizing their offspring that made them so proud and joyful no longer had their immense bodies to terrorize the children of man. Their established easy connection with the three-dimensional world was cut off. The nephilim were bound in the spiritual realm and had to work from there. Once again, satan and his unholy followers were reminded they would never, never ever be able to even try to rise above the Most High. The watchers wept over that reality, but we can rejoice over it! We can know, that the Most High, Who is love will, will forever be the only Occupant of the Highest Region. Just by looking at the terrorism caused by the watchers and the nephilim we can see enough reason to remain thankful they won't ever achieve ultimate power.

The Great Flood was necessary

We can be grateful for the Great Flood that made it impossible for this evil bloodline of hybrid beings to completely take over the planet. The Almighty heard the cry of the sufferers; He saw how His creation was brutally corrupted. Man's initiation into the mystery of iniquity eventually led to his mere destruction, and when Jah would not have responded, we could not have been going through this book together. We wouldn't exist. The Saviour couldn't have come forth out of the woman, and in the "best case scenario" creation would have been "tohuw va bohuw³⁴" again. The Seed of the woman would not have crushed the serpent's head³⁵. So the Great Flood was necessary and just.

Propaganda

When you want to rule people, you have to make excessive use of the propaganda method. One aspect is, to interpretate certain events as victory where in reality the opposite is true. This is a kind of propaganda aimed at keeping people ignorant and is used by regimes who have a more covert style of ³⁴ "Empty and deserted", wrongly translated in Genesis 1 as "Without form and void". See Chapter 1 for an in-depth excursion.

³⁵ See Chapter two, especially the paragraph about the ancient prophecy to the serpent.

dictatorship. But in totalitarian systems, you'll see another form of propaganda that seemingly is reasonless when you look at it first. In the time I write this, every news programme is filled with pictures from Iraq. Saddam Hussein, the brutal dictator is gone and what is called "the symbols of his regime" are –equally symbolical- destroyed. A major event was the American army putting down a giant statue of the dictator. On the picture left you can see how an American soldier puts the flag of his country over the face of Saddam Hussein. Ofcourse the symbolism is obvious. And the propaganda. But what about the propaganda of Saddam Hussein's regime? Giant statues, paintings showing the man as a lovingful house father. Everybody knew that these were false images. You didn't have to listen to the experts on television "discerning" truth from propaganda. People who directly suffered under the dictator didn't need so, too. Almost everyone lost one or more relatives, killed by the police or whatever. An obviously false image was openly and violently put into people's minds. When you dared to say that Saddam Hussein was a dictator, you'd be killed. And it went further: people had to say out loud that Saddam was a good man, where in their minds they knew it was a lie. At best, they had obvious doubt to the absolute truth of the propaganda. This kind of propaganda is absolutely not aimed at keeping people ignorant. If that would be the case, Saddam's regime wouldn't last as long as it did. It's also not a sign of stupidity from the people who make the propaganda or from the ones who were forced to receive it. It's a way to create a constant sense of fear in the hearts of the recipients! And it's a similar kind of propaganda, which is used by the babylonian "Christianity" to keep people in slavery and fear.

Ridiculous Christianity

Earlier in this chapter, we've briefly discussed the implications of the traditional view concerning the Flood. We saw, how the Most High was portrayed in the interpretations of the events. We learned, how the so-called Church Fathers put the Book of Enoch in the heretical corner. And we'll see much more of this manipulation as the book goes on. The reason is the same: imposing fear on the recipients by violently painting an evidently wrong image. But where Saddam Hussein was a brutal dictator and messages about his good and loving character were absolute lies, the Most High is a good and lovingful Person but the images painted of Him are not. If it were up to the workers of iniquity, Christians were to be transformed into the most ridiculous group on earth. That way, the danger they formed for the established powers would be considerably less. And in a way they succeeded: many Christians say that God is Love, but inwardly they have many doubts. If God is Love, then why was he so angry with the people in Noah's days? Why did He regret making people anyway? Why did he decide to destroy mankind? So they try to put it aside, but the seed of doubt is sown. Just like the serpent tempted Eve by starting to paint the Most High as a brutal dictator, the workers of iniquity do this by taking away knowledge that would answer all of these questions. These workers wrongly translate the Bible, they suppress books and label it heretic where in fact the writings are not heretic, and the result is a corrupted image of God that keeps people in doubt and fear. A perfect combination to maintain people in slavery. And others far away from the real message of Jesus, because how can you explain that God is love when He is like the caricature which babylon paints? It's because of these things, that many people think about Christianity as a very ridiculous kind of religion.

Christianity: a tool of enslavement?

In the paragraph on propaganda, we've seen that one of the main reasons for it is to keep people in slavery. The followers are taught to believe things, which will get them into an intellectual state of confusion. They are not allowed to say what they feel, what they think is logical, without having to fear severe punishment. So they themselves are consciously forwarding the same propaganda. “God is love”, they say. “He never makes mistakes”. And right they are. But inside, they doubt. They doubt, because they read in the Bible, that God regretted to have ever created man³⁶. They believe that man’s sins were the reason that God became angry and put water on the earth, only saving three brothers with their wives and their father and mother: Noah, Shem, Ham and Japheth. They even believe, that God created satan because they read that “God formed the crooked serpent”³⁷. But because they know also that their own mind is absolutely too small to comprehend the depths of God’s things, and that when they do not see a thing it doesn’t mean it isn’t necessarily absent, they rest in that. However, the doubt is spread and it absolutely keeps people from enjoying the goodness of Jah, a thing that is absolutely necessary in order to be a part of the living temple that He’s building on earth³⁸.

³⁶ Genesis 6:6v reads: “And it repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him at his heart. And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.” The problem with the word “repent” is, that it can also be translated as “deeply grieved”, or (strangely enough): “to be comfortated”. It cannot be translated with “to repent” in this particular instance because of the simple reason that it would contradict other statements in the Bible where God is portrayed as infallible. God did not regret that He made man, but He was deeply discomforted by what was going on. It was His creation that was being destroyed!

³⁷ His hand hath formed the crooked serpent. (Job 26:13, KJV). For an in-depth analysis of this particular scripture, go to chapter 1 (In The Beginning) and read the paragraph called “Rahab connected to satan’s fall”. You will find out how different the original message of this scripture is. It says nothing about God creating satan.

³⁸ 1 Peter 2:3vv reads: “If so be ye have tasted that the Lord [is] gracious. To whom coming, [as unto] a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, [and] precious, Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.”

Corpses in mass grave at Auschwitz

An unnecessary doubt

Indeed, it is true: we are not able to fully understand the meaning of certain events of which we would think God could perhaps respond differently than He did. After the Second World War, many people in the west saw a reason to become atheist. They asked (themselves) the question: where was God in Auschwitz³⁹? But some who have been there claim, that they found God in Auschwitz. And it's obvious that God is not to blame for the crime by the Nazi's. On the contrary: it's considered well-known that Adolph Hitler based his "reasonings" on the same foundation as the New Age Movement, another branch of the workers of the Mystery of Iniquity⁴⁰. But still, can we explain? Not fully, that's for sure. And so it is with the story of the Great Flood. But there's surely much more to say than the traditional view wants people to believe. A view that is shown to be carefully implanted in the Christian churches by so-called "church fathers" who wanted to make Christianity into a subject of ridicule for those who knew that the "sons of God" from Genesis are not human. For it is exactly this traditional view that is causing an unnecessary doubt in the hearts of Christians. And, as we shall see now, it's also a foundation in the reasonings of those that believe the ancient gods were in fact visitors from a different planet. Let's take a look at the book "Non è Terrestre" by the writer Peter

³⁹ Auschwitz is the name of one of the most infamous concentration camps in which the Nazi's killed millions of people. Its name has become the symbol of the holocaust. "Auschwitz" stands for all concentration camps.

Kolisimo⁴¹. It contains a description of George Adamski, one of the first to have claimed to have contact with ET's. In this description, he makes the following statement on the "sons of God" in Genesis 6:

"The sons of God obviously looked like humans, because they were able to make offspring with contemporary human women. They were of flesh and blood like we, I am sure that no one will say, that spirits or angels came down to start relations with women, they must have been humanoids like you and me. This is a definite proof, that the other planets are habitated since very ancient times..."⁴² (emphasis by the writer of this book who translated from Dutch to english)

Same lie, same propaganda

It doesn't take a degree in analysis to recognize the manipulation and propaganda lying behind the words of these bizarre statements by Kolisimo. Completely in the line of the so-called Church Fathers, he refuses to accept the angelic nature of the Watchers. He goes as far as to say, that he is sure no one will say that the sons of God were angelic. Why was he so sure? Did he know how carefully this idea has been taken out of the Judaic and Christian concepts? Or was he another victim of the propaganda? His certainty is something I wouldn't build my house on, that's for sure. And his style hints towards the second possibility: he has been conditioned to assume things. The idea that angels can "create" offspring with women was widely Ze waren van vlees en bloed zoals wij: ik ben er zeker van, dat niemand zal beweren, dat geesten of engelen naar beneden gekomen zijn om verhoudingen met deze mensen aan te gaan; het moeten menselijke wezen zijn geweest zoals U en ik. accepted as a common event throughout the ancient world. But Kolisimo has been conditioned to believe in the impossibility of it. Still, he found out that there were “strange beings” that were considered gods by many ancient peoples. His only conclusion can therefore be, that ET must have visited earth and “played god”. He clearly shows that by stating: “this is the definitive proof, that the other planets are habitated since ancient times”. It could be a definitive proof, but more of the absurdness of the “Ancient Astronaut theory”. But let’s save that for a different chapter and for now just establish the conclusion, that both traditional teaching as well as the Ancient Astronaut theory make use of the same propaganda to rule out the angelic nature of the watchers. A propaganda that makes people doubt the Nature of God and prevents them from comprehending end-times events.

Why we are not allowed to know

This book is just scratching the surface of the different matters, however: deeper studies will reveal only more details. The principals stay the same. We’ve seen that the workers of iniquity have been manipulating and hiding true knowledge. We’re not surprised, because we see that one of the natures of the mystery is, to hide things. To try to take light away so things will become “secret”. Only initiates “know” and the masses must be kept in (mental) slavery. Over the ages people have been manipulated, indoctrinated and brainwashed into rejecting the fact that angels married women who “bare” offspring to them. Christians and Jews were taught to believe that the benai Elohim were the sons of Seth, today’s scientifically orientated people are getting the Ancient Astronaut brainwash. Whatever you want to believe, as long as the true nature isn’t revealed it serves the workers of iniquity. Apparently, knowing this will lead to a fuller overstanding of the last days. Remember, Yesus Kristus prophesied that these days would return as it were. Where God made it more difficult for the nephilim to be on the earth, physically, the evil ones try and try to get a genetic code which will enable them once more to roam the earth and devour mankind. According to Yesus’ prophecy, they will eventually succeed in doing so. The reason why the babylonian brainwashers want to prevent people from identifying the true nature of the watchers and their nephilim children is that their mere nature reveals their evilness. When you believe that “they” are ET’s, or “other humans”, you would have the idea that they should be treated with respect. When you believe that “they” are human, you simply have the doubt concerning God’s love but you would not realize that the wicked ones were actually involved in these kind of sickening practices. But when you know their true nature and identity, I doubt if you would support them or worse, cooperate with them. The workers of iniquity can stay and experiment until Jah will let them find the solution for their “problem”, and no one who could be able to identify them realize what’s going on. And those who do realize what’s going on, are blinded and therefore do not realize that they are dealing with beings who are evil.

Apocalypse then

Apocalypse literally means “revelation”. But it has also grown out to become a word associated with judgements. Severe judgements. Noah’s Great Flood definitely was such a big judgement. The whole earth was covered with water. By changing the earth poles, God changed the atmospherical conditions of the planet so that it would be more difficult for the evil ones to create more nephilim. It would be physically impossible for them to roam the earth in such a massive scale. But they could still be born, though. And unfortunately, they would. Later we’ll read more on that.

More propaganda on the days of Noah

As said before, the days of Noah are clouded in a mist of mystery, enigma, propaganda and manipulation. And we’ve seen many examples. We know that these days will have an echo in the time ahead of us. We’ve seen how Christians have been indoctrinated with the “Seth Theory”. For modern man in the western world, the Ancient Astronaut Theory has been developed. And for the more spiritually orientated man, the New Age has some pretty bizarre theories as well. As you might or might not know, the New Age Movement also announces the “new world order”. They call it “new age” or the “age of Aquarius”. Supposedly, this new age will be a time in which mankind will realize it’s full potential, namely that they are gods. It will also be an echo of a previous time, called “the Age of Atlantis”. According to esoterical teaching, this age of Atlantis is the same as the days before Noah’s Flood. And one of the movement’s main objectives is to re-install these “Atlantean Times”. They claim, that mankind lost it’s “full potential” when Atlantis was destroyed. Let me quote myself, in a meditation I wrote about the New Age Movement⁴³:

According to New Age philosophy, there is a group of spiritual beings called "the masters of wisdom". This group consists of beings that used to be human, but through all kinds of initiations and reincarnations they have evolved themselves. The masters of wisdom are "the Custodians of the Divine Plan for Earth"⁴⁴, they "are the muses of poets and the inspiration behind all of the great thinkers, scientists, leaders and artists of every century." (...) It is interesting to read, that these masters need to work "underground", not visible and audible. Most of them reside in the mountains of the Himalayas and other far off places, from where they guide humanity. According to the teachings of the NAM this is since the big flood. Before that these fallen spirits "had worked openly, outwardly in the world as the priest-kings and god-like beings who gave men the Atlantean civilisation". Reportedly the plan is to bring this situation back again, with Maitreya and "Jesus" and 39 other masters doing again this work. New Agers call the pre-flood world "Atlantis". In an article called Hidden Esoteric Wisdom in the Bible, the reverend (!) Ray Carey writes: "Look at the story of Noah, the ark, and the deluge (Atlantis destroyed)." It is very interesting indeed, that apparently these masters of wisdom that teach humanity lost their physical bodies during the flood. (...) Read what writer Aart Jurriaanse has got to say in a piece called "evolution of humanity began over 18 million years ago. "In those early days of Lemuria and Atlantis the primitive masses were led by their priest kings, assisted by Adepts, initiates and disciples, the direct descendants of the former White Brotherhood, who still formed the only real source of intelligent and spiritual guidance". (...) After the flood, the unholy spirits of the nephilim needed to do their wicked works of iniquity more covert, for they lost their bodies in the flood. The message of the New Age, in a sense, is that this Atlantean situation will be restored on earth, at least when the masters of wisdom get what they want. In this context, it is vital to remember the prophecy of Jesus Christ, that during the last days, it will be like in the days of Noah. The New Agers talk about bringing back the pre-flood situation, because all the masters are supposedly coming as a group in this coming time. Again, in physical bodies. Maitreya being their leader.

⁴⁴ Word in italics is actual quotes from new age websites.

Summary and conclusion

In the days of Noah, we see an early reflection of what lies ahead of us here on the planet. Angels came down, raped women and bared offspring which brutalized humankind until such an extent that only eight people were left. This was the true reason for the Great Flood. Satan and his "fellow reptilians" were not allowed to make earth into a perfect habitation for themselves, for they were cast into the spiritual dimensions. This particular knowledge was widespread in ancient times, but the workers of iniquity have been trying to hide it to give it a certain explanation, which would fit their goals more. Jesus has prophesied, that the last days would be similar to Noah's time. The Ancient Astronaut theory and the New Age Movement have their own bizarre explanations that also point out towards the return of the nephilim. They portray the nephilim and the watchers as “good people” who are interested in assisting men to move forward. The Bible and “Church Fathers” have been transformed into making Christians a subject of ridicule because it was imposed that people would believe that the watchers were human, sons of Seth. That way, they “neutralized” a crucial source of information: the book of Enoch. And by doing all this, they could gradually prepare the human race to accept satan and his “friends” as welcome allies.

Forward!

In the following chapters, we will look into certain theories that serve the agenda of the wicked. We will see how they match the original message of the Bible until a great extent. But we will also see, that although it is the same story, there are different sides. The propaganda concerning the Great Flood illustrates the complicated network of manipulation and brainwash: surely there is a plan. The apostle Paulus wrote that the plan was already working in his times, and indeed, it was. It was working from ages before the creation of man! And it will end in a climax, which has perhaps only precedence in the destruction of Rahab and the pre-Adamite civilizations on the various planets.
